Introduction

The team of Department of Applied Sciences whole-heartedly supported for the admission 2020 during the challenging scenario of COVID-19. With the grace of God and the goodwill of our esteemed institution we got good number of admissions for the batch 2020.

Each educational institution conducts different activities to welcome the new entrants and assist them in their transition to a new educational experience. But this time the scenario was quite different due to the ongoing pandemic. In such a situation we arranged Online Orientation Programme. Usually, we conduct three weeks orientation programme but this time we arranged it for one week which was carried out from 5th October to 9th October 2020. The orientation programme was conducted by Department of Applied Sciences under the guidance of Principal, Dr.VK Banga.

Objectives

We conduct Student Orientation Programme as our tradition. But now as per the guidelines of AICTE, we conduct orientation in depth. The programme is being conducted every year with the following objectives;

1. To Welcome the new students
2. To acquaint the students with the infrastructure and members of the faculty.
3. To help the students to navigate the campus.
4. To inculcate the human values.
5. To develop the effective communication skills.
6. To assist the students in developing the positive relationship.
7. To help the students to improve the overall personality.
